The Intelligencer.

WHEELING, JUNE 27, 1891.

Let There be Light.

Light for the streets of Wheeling, plenty of it and the best there is to be had. Up to date electric light is the best, and this is what a considerable number of the people demand. Whether they are three-fifths of the voting population of the city remains to be seen by to-day's balloting.

It has been said that there is a majority in favor and it has been said that there is a majority against. Where there is a free ballot and a fair count, such as in the main we have in Wheeling, the way to determine these questions is to count the ballots after they have been cast.

The INTELLIGENCER desires to emphasize this point because many friends of the electric light ordinance seem to be under the delusion that the majority will be so large that their votes will not be needed.

The Government Outbid.
As a special honor the three graduates of the Naval Academy who stand highest in their class are detailed for a three years' post graduate course in the Royal Naval College at Greenwich, England. The Government stands the cost, and the exceptional opportunity is regarded as one of the prizes of good work at Annapolis.

This year the star graduates respectfully decline the detail, because they must pledge themselves to remain in the service at least ten years, not an unreasonable requirement, and in view of the higher rewards to be had outside the service they are not willing to tie themselves up.

This state of facts suggests that if the Government can afford to educate men for a certain work it can afford to pay them as much as private concerns can to keep them at that work. The smallness of the pay and the slowness of promotion drive many a fine young fellow out of the navy, and the country loses.

The South Must.

Referring to Mr. Cleveland, whose nomination it is not shouting for, the Alexandria, Va., Gazette remarks that "the South will support anybody that may be nominated—it must."

Why must the South support any Democrat that may be nominated? There is no must in the North. The North has to be argued with, appealed to, State by State, to induce it to support the Presidential nominees, and it does not give all its support to one nominee representing one party. Why does the South voluntarily play the role of the slave of the Democratic party—no will of her own, no anything but blind obedience to the command of the Democratic convention?

The attitude of the South is remarkable, not only because it is against her business interests, but because no Southern man has the ghost of a show in the Democratic national convention; and this is well understood before the convention meets.

Level-Headed Depew.

Mr. Depew is going abroad for his health, recuperation and ozone. He is so bent on finding what he seeks that he does not even load himself with plans. From what he says we gather that he is just going to drift, nothing being of half the importance to him of the one thing needful—health that will stand by him until he can get away for another summer holiday.

This philosopher remarks that a man who can "stand the racket" of business for ten months can do better work if he will use two months to recuperate and get ready for the next tilt; and the further he goes from familiar scenes the better.

Mr. Depew is undoubtedly right. Time spent in recuperation is not lost time. Many a man doesn't get away because he thinks he can't. He goes readily enough when the undertaker calls for him.

The Confederate City.

Richmond has on foot an earnest movement to secure the remains of Jefferson Davis. She is arguing the case from her point of view with all the force she can command. Mrs. Davis has been appealed to and her answer is impatiently awaited.

The Dispatch, in a leading article, says: "The chief strength, but not the only strength, of our claim is that Richmond is the Confederate city." If it had been said that Richmond was the Confederate city, that could be understood as not incompatible with her present supposed status as a city of the United States of America.

To make claim to the bones of the chief offender on the ground that Richmond is to-day the Confederate city, is to put it plumply that Richmond has not learned anything in the quarter of a century since the Confederacy was crushed.

The Meaneast.

The Dayton Herald wants John G. Warwick, successor to Major McKinley in Congress, passed around as "the meanest partisan in the United States." It gives the INTELLIGENCER pleasure to contribute to this worthy end. Warwick invited the boys of his district to compete for a West Point cadetship. The successful competitor was the son of a Republican, and this is given as the reason why Warwick will not have him appointed. Anything smaller than this couldn't be detected with a microscope.

William McKinley enlisted as a private in the Twenty-third Ohio when he had reached the ripe age of seventeen years. That was in May, 1861, before the echo of the guns of Sumter had died away. He fought his way up to a captaincy, and for gallantry at Oppekan, Fisher's Hill and Cedar Creek was brevetted major. He has been fighting his way up ever since. He is about to be elected Governor of Ohio, and then something else may happen to him.

A New Jersey boy was sitting in a cherry tree pelting passers-by with cherry pits through a putty blower. He fell and drove the sharp tin tube into the roof of his mouth. His injuries are thought to be fatal. The putty blower and the "nigger-shooter" should be abolished. They are as dangerous as the gun that isn't loaded.

PARNELL and his bride have settled down to housekeeping just like old married people. It is not likely that he will now take the trouble to prove to the world that Capt. O'Shea slandered him.

Mr. HALSTEAD'S Brooklyn Standard-Union couples John Most and Senator Peffer together in one able article. When Most gets out of jail he will go gunning for that able editor.

RUSSIA demands an enormous increase of men for her army. And she can't sit out the Nihilists as she draws in her drag-net. This is one thing that makes the Czar's head lie uneasy.

HARVARD broke the trusting heart of Yale. To know what this sort of defeat means you must have seen college boys bending their backs and throwing their souls into a boat race.

If the streets of Wheeling had the electric light for one night the man who would propose to go back to the dismal gas lamp would breed something like a riot.

Mr. CLEVELAND seems to have been eliminated from New York politics. This may reduce his weight by convention time.

We are minding tin and minding tin plate, and still they say, "you can't do it, you know." Funny, isn't it?

UNDER a good electric light you don't have to get out a lantern to find a lamp-post.

An Illinois sparrow's head is worth two cents—when you get the head.

PRESS COMMENTS.

A Nut for Peffer to Crack.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat.
Separator and ex-Speaker Carlisle, the ablest Democratic leader in Congress, dumfounded several leaders of the newly organized People's party, who recently called upon him to consult regarding their political movement. Mr. Carlisle asked his visitors how they proposed to secure governmental ownership and control of railroads and telegraph lines—whether by confiscation or purchase. He then asked if the People's party had any idea as to what the purchase of the railroads of the United States would cost.

"Our government debt at the close of the war," said he, "was more than two thousand millions, and we have been almost thirty years in paying half of it. The railroads, telegraphs, telephone lines and steamboats in the country represent about $10,000,000,000 invested capital; $4,000,000,000 is bonded indebtedness which must be paid. Are you ready to tax yourselves to raise this money? Then, after you have got the property, are you ready to tax yourselves to operate it—for the government never yet succeeded in doing business at a profit? Consider another effect: such a plan would add perhaps 1,200,000 men and women to the roll of government employees. How would you ever succeed in turning out of power an administration with such resources at its command? The more corrupt it was the more difficult it would be to displace it."

The Best People's Party.

Cleveland News and Herald.
A rail-splitter, a tanner, a poor farmer, a canal driver, a shoemaker, tailor, school teacher, such were the humble beginnings of the men who, mingling their aspirations and work with the spirit of the Republican party, shouldered their way upward from obscurity to the highest places in the gift of a free people.

His Place in the Senate.

Boston Journal.
The lively pleasure which the enemies of protection and the honest dollar express at the idea that John Sherman may not be re-elected to the United States Senate should be a valuable hint to the Ohio Republicans.

There Are Several of Them.

Peoria Daily Transcript.
Bearing in mind the needs, desires and wishes of the farmers, the Republicans of New York can nominate a candidate this year who will carry everything before him.

Farewells That Don't Count.

Albany Express.
The New York Press calls Freight-Payer Jones "the Patti of Politics." This is on account of his numerous farewells to politics.

Important to Inventors.

Among the noteworthy patents granted this week, are the following, reported by Higdon & Higdon, 127 Fourth Ave., Pittsburgh: F. H. Ball, Erie, Pa., steam engine governor; J. T. Bowyer, Winfield, W. Va., sewing machine; S. H. Braden, Lippincott, Pa., fence; C. M. Carnahan, Coraopolis, Pa., coupling; William Duncan, Allegheny, electric car trolley; R. M. Downie, Beaver Falls, Pa., valve; C. J. Kirk, New Castle, Pa., harrow. Copies of specifications and drawings of the above patents may be had by applying to Higdon & Higdon.

THE AMERICAN COLLEGE.

What it Lives For and What it Seeks to Do.

President Gates of Amherst.

There are reasons deep in the life of college bred men for the loyal interest, the abounding hopefulness and joy which mark commencement gatherings at our American colleges. That political philosopher, an Englishman by birth and training, who has recently shown such sympathetic clearness of vision in studying the life and the institutions of the "American Commonwealth," professes the conviction that we Americans "are capable of an idealism surpassing that of Englishmen and Frenchmen." The college life of every college-bred American is indissolubly associated with his highest ideals. If he is capable of noble enthusiasm, if he knew noble teaching in college, the memories of college days must stir all that is noblest in his later manhood. The very function of the college challenges enthusiasm and admiration. It exists to develop life and light and power. He who loves a rich, full, strong life must honor the true college! To name a college like ours is to name a starry radiant theme! The mission of the college is to diffuse the beneficent light of ideas. How can a light-house be selfish? Life and light are themes which no man can belittle; and no surroundings can take from their essential dignity. More light for mind and soul, more and fuller life-power to be used in the world's best work, this is the significance of the college. What light and freedom of soul mark the intercourse of those whose occupation is the discovery of truth and the diffusion of ideas. He ranks highest who gives most unselfish service. In the world of ideas we gain by giving, and the force we use in serving others measures while it increases the force we can receive. The power that is generated at a Christian college diffuses itself like fresh air and sunshine, making better all men whom it touches.

AMONG THE JOKERS.

Author's Thought.
Lives of printers all remind us
They could make our thoughts sublime,
If they'd cease to leave behind us
Misprints on the books of time.

Why She Wept.

One of the bridesmaids was softly crying during the ceremony and her escort, nudging her, whispered:
"What are you crying for? It isn't your wedding."
"That's why I'm crying," she said.

Fooling a Chapman.

While fiercely burns the solar fire,
Along the beach they stray
Beneath her sunshade and admire
The white sails in the bay.

The chapman keenly eyes the two
As, basking in the sun,
They stand with heads concealed from view
Beneath the parasol.

Not Changeable.

"She refused you, then?"
"She did."

"I wouldn't give her up for all that. I would propose again."

"No, I won't, at least not for a week or so. She isn't one who changes her mind quickly."

The Secret of His Success.

"Brown always wins at the races?"
"He does."

"How is it that he is so lucky?"
"Well, you see, he always gets a straight tip."

"And then bets on some other horse."

Summer.

Now that the sun with nose iridescent,
Whose glow "misleads the morn," give o'er
The fiery rapture of the whisky straight,
And to the foot pour down the lager cool.
Or subtle fizz and shake his head and sigh
For wintry weather and stiff drinks again.

The Effect of Culture.

Bostonian.
Boston Girl—Oh, mother! I did something awful at the party to-day.

Mother—Why, my dear child, what was it?

Boston Girl—That horrid bouquet Mr. Beacon sent me had some daisies in it.

Mother—Why, my dear child, what was it?

Boston Girl—My glasses fell off and Mr. Beacon saw my bare face.

An Unappreciated Lesson.

Philadelphia Times.
"You young scoundrel," said the father, seizing his disobedient son by the neck, "I'll show you how you ought to treat your mother!"

And he gave him several bangs on the ears and then shook him until his hair began to fall out.

Theatre Properties.

Good News.
Jerseyman—I see you are going to play a piece called "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Theatre Manager—Yes, would you like to see it?

"No. I suppose it's mostly moonlight and thunder storm and slich. I know all about theatres, but I thought maybe you might want to buy some chickens."

"We have no farm scene in it."

"Oh! Well, they're young and lively, an' their wings ain't clipped yet. You might use them as mosquitoes."

CHAPTER 1: Weak, tired, no appetite.

Chapter 2: Take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Chapter 3: Strong, cheerful, hungry.

FIRST SHIPMENT OF TIN.

Announcement of a Great Industry Due to the McKinley Bill.

Santa Barbara (Cal.) Press, June 20.

The steamship Corona, which was at the Santa Barbara wharf last Saturday evening, had on board as freight from San Diego to San Francisco a consignment of 207 pigs of tin, weighing about 12,000 pounds, which was mined at Temescal, San Diego county, and was the first shipment from these new mines, which owe their development to the McKinley bill. This ought to be an effectual answer to those free trade papers which keep on insisting, in the face of indisputable facts, that no tin is, or can be, manufactured in this country. But there are none so blind as those who won't see.

Whether the American free trade papers recognize the fact that tin is being mined in tin plate made in this country, that industry abroad is fully aware of it. A telegram from London under date of June 12 says:

Owing to the decreased demand from America, forty-three Welsh tin plate works will shut down during the whole month of July, locking out 26,000 men. It is feared the stoppage will extend beyond July. A mass meeting of men will be held in Swansea to protest against the lockout.

It is not reasonable to suppose that less tin plate is used in this country than formerly, and the inference is irresistible that the difference is being supplied at home.

NEW MARTINSVILLE.

Mr. James S. Standford, who has been ailing for some time, is at present trying the recuperative effects of the climate and waters at Mt. Clemens, Mich.

W. B. Carr, the telegraph operator here for the Ohio River railroad during the absence of James F. Frame, has been relieved by the return of Mr. Frame and has gone to his home in Wheeling.

Henry R. Thompson, the popular County Clerk, has been summoned to appear before the federal grand jury at Parkersburg with the election poll books of Clay district, Wetzel county, for the election of 1890.

Mr. Frank Moore, of Proctor district, this county, is seriously, possibly fatally ill from a clogging of the intestinal canal. A consultation of physicians was had yesterday on his case, and they decided they could not render him any aid. He is one of Wetzel county's best citizens.

Mr. Bert McCounaghey, of Bridgeport, Ohio, and Miss Mollie Roberts, of New Martinsville, W. Va., were married here at the residence of the bride's father Thursday afternoon. They are a youthful couple, the groom being twenty years old and the bride fifteen.

Miss Lizzie Springer, one of New Martinsville's most popular young ladies, was married last Thursday at Valley Falls, on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, near Grafton. She and her husband will spend a few days of their honeymoon at this place, visiting relatives and friends.

The village summer girl is a prominent person now-a-days. She goes out to the railroad station about train time to see who comes or goes. She knows all the trainmen and the "daisy drummers." She can carry on a fifteen minutes' small talk with them with ease and reap great personal enjoyment to herself. The summer girl is the favorite with the men of the road.

WESTON.

A new switch board is in course of erection at the central telephone office. It was just what J. B. Finster & Co., boots and shoes, was sold Thursday to West & Son.

A young son of J. B. Watson, who lives near Roanoke, was drowned in the river near his home last Saturday.

Rev. B. B. Evans is on the sick list this week. He was carried from the pulpit to his home on last Sunday night.

James Bohlin, of the asylum force, was sent down on the West Virginia Central railroad for a lunatic. The man hung himself just two hours before Mr. Bohlin arrived.

Mrs. Dan Bassett was struck by a freight train on the West Virginia & Pittsburgh Railroad near Lost Creek on Wednesday last. One of her arms was broken and she was considerably bruised up.

Mr. E. M. Tunstall, well known by Wheeling people as the proprietor of the Bailey House at this place, died here Monday evening at 5 o'clock of inflammation of the bowels. He was one of the best hotel men in the State. He came to Weston in 1840 and soon after married Ernestine, daughter of Major Bailey, from whom the hotel takes its name. His funeral was a very large one and took place Tuesday afternoon. It was conducted by the Masonic orders of this place and Buckhannon. Rev. Dr. Lacy preaching the funeral sermon.

BELLAIRE.

All Sorts of Local News and Gossip from the Glass City.

J. H. Thomas, of the Massillon Miners' Independent, was here yesterday.

Mrs. George McPherson and Miss Jennie Butler are at the A. M. E. Sunday-school Convention at Steubenville.

M. F. Heisley, the confectioner, has been closed on an attachment to secure an account due N. Schulz, of Wheeling.

Mr. Osborne Huston and Miss Margery Riley were married by Rev. A. B. Williams Thursday night at the home of the bride.

Out at Lewisville the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company is using a box-car for a depot, the building having burned this week.

Henry Wilton's family left yesterday with their goods to join him at Hammond, Ind., where he is at work for the Lakeside Nail Company.

Rev. J. C. Garver, of West Liberty, W. Va., preached at the First Presbyterian church last night, preparatory to communion services to-morrow.

W. R. Crumpton, general manager of the B. & O. Railroad, has accepted the general management of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, with headquarters at Baltimore.

James George was arrested some days ago on a charge of insanity and taken to the asylum. There was no room then, and he was discharged. He was again arrested and taken to the infirmary. He had no papers for commitment and he was again set at liberty. The third time he was taken to the county infirmary yesterday, the proper papers in the case having reached the officers there.

James W. Fry, of the Union Window Glass Company, met with a painful accident yesterday morning while handling the hot roll in the swing hole. When he had thrown it out and up over his head it broke, coming down over him. His face, head, shoulders and hands were badly burned and cut. He was taken home at once and his mother, who is quite an expert, soon had him resting easy.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup was used for years as a prescription by a successful physician. It is in all respects the best cough medicine made to-day. Sold by all dealers on a guarantee of satisfaction.

Mex's fine seamless Dongola Gaiters $1.75, worth $2.50, at STONE'S CASH SHOE STORE.

Surprise to All.

After using "Mother's Friend" two months I was so speedily and easily relieved that it was a surprise to those attending me. "Mother's Friend" undoubtedly lessens the pains, shortens the time and restores the mother speedily to health. Will recommend it to all expectant mothers and advise them to use it.

Mrs. J. A. R. Muncie, Ind.

HOT SPRINGS, DOCTORS

And All Methods and Remedies Fail to Cure a Bruised Leg—Cuticura Succeeds.

Having been a sufferer for two years and a half from a disease caused by a bruise on the leg, and having been cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, with all other methods and remedies failed, I deem it my duty to recommend them. I visited Hot Springs to no avail, and tried several doctors without success, and at last our principal druggist, Mr. John P. Finley, (to whom I allude ever last grateful) spoke to me about CUTICURA REMEDIES, and I consented to give them a trial, with the result that I am perfectly cured. There is now no more about me. I think I can show the largest surface where my sufferings sprang from of any one in the State. The CUTICURA REMEDIES are the best blood and skin cures manufactured. I refer to druggists John P. Finley and Dr. D. C. Montgomery, both of this place, and to Dr. Smith, of Lake Lee, Miss.

ALEXANDER BEACH, Greenville, Miss.
Mr. Beach used the CUTICURA REMEDIES at our request, with results as above stated.

A. B. FINLEY & CO., Druggists.

Life-Long Suffering.

I have suffered all my life with skin diseases of different kinds, and have never found permanent relief, until, by the advice of a lady friend, I used your valuable CUTICURA REMEDIES. I gave them a thorough trial, using six bottles of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, two boxes of CUTICURA, and seven cakes of CUTICURA SOAP, and the result was just what I had been told it would be—a complete cure. BELLE WADE, Richmond, Va. Reference, G. W. Latimer, Druggist, Richmond, Va.

Cuticura Resolvent,

The new blood purifier, internally to cleanse the blood of all impurities and poisonous elements, and thus remove the cause, and CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Purifier and Beautifier, externally to clear the skin and scalp and restore the hair, cure every disease and humor of the skin, scalp and blood, from infancy to age, from pimples to scrofula.
